

SOCIETY

THE interest of smart society in Virginia has centered during the past week in the horse show being held at Charlottesville. The Albemarle show, following so closely the one held at Orange, proved an opportunity for much social enjoyment, as well as good sport and daring horsemanship.

August 18 and 19 are the dates for the show in Pulaski county, that will bring together a number of people in Southwest Virginia. Indeed, it has been proved that these summer horse shows in Virginia are quite "the thing," and they are being well attended by Virginia people at large. Tournament, reminiscent of "days of old when knights were bold," are being brought into favor again by Virginia youths, society in Clarke county being well represented. On Tuesday, the one on Green's Field, near White Post, while the Warrenton Hunt Club entertained its knights and maids at a brilliant ball following their tournament.

Weddings of the Coming Week.

To-morrow, at 2 P. M. Clifford L. Goldsmith and Miss Corinne Virginia Isman will be quietly married in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hannah Isman, at 212 South Fourth Street. Dr. E. N. Calisch will perform the ceremony.

Quite an interesting wedding of the week is that of Miss Elizabeth Sutton Conway and Albert Genet Kirtland, which is to take place in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles Kirtland, at 304 West Grace Street, on Wednesday morning, August 11, at 11:30 o'clock. Rev. Landon Mason, of Grace Episcopal Church, will be the officiating clergyman.

Grayson Kirtland, the brother of the groom, will be his best man, and the bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Margaret G. Conway, as maid of honor, and her two little nieces, Misses Marianne G. and Frances C. Warren, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Warren, of Orange county, who will wear the ribbons to form an aisle for the bride party and carry French baskets filled with pink blossoms. The little Misses Warren will wear white costumes, and the maid of honor's frock is of white lingerie and lace. She will wear a lingerie hat and carry a garden bouquet of pink asters.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Henry C. Warren, will be given away by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sutton Conway, who will be escorted by her brother-in-law, Mr. Henry C. Warren, who will be escorted by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Sutton Conway, who will be escorted by her brother-in-law, Mr. Henry C. Warren, who will be escorted by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Sutton Conway.

Among the out-of-town guests who will come to Richmond to attend the Kirtland-Conway nuptials on Wednesday will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Warren and the Misses Warren, of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Young, of Staunton; Mr. and Mrs. Kirtland's sisters, Kirtland, of Washington, D. C.; the Misses Kirtland, of Washington, D. C.; who will arrive Tuesday to be the guests of the Conways until after the wedding.

Mrs. Johnston's Guests. Mrs. Howard Clayborne Johnston, who is entertaining her sisters, Misses Frances and Mary Woodberry, of Atlanta, Ga., expected her friend, Mrs. William Jennings, of Charleston, S. C., to stop over with her in her Grace Street home to-day. Mrs. Jennings is on her way to Lexington, Va., where she goes to spend the remainder of the summer.

The Misses Woodberry are charming girls, and their stay in Richmond will be greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Johnston has already planned for them several delightful week-end trips, and during their visit here they will take in many interesting points around Richmond and spend some time in sightseeing.

Go to Bermuda. A pleasant party sailing from New York for Bermuda on yesterday included Misses Alice and Bessie Walker, Miss Jessie Evans, W. A. Shultice, Mrs. Shultice, of West Virginia, John Taylor and Mrs. A. B. Chandler, who left Richmond a few days ago.

Richmond Girls in Kentucky. Miss Mary Whitsett and Miss Grace Greenwood have been spending a month in the heart of the Blue Ridge region of Kentucky. They are guests of Mrs. Anne M. Swann, a sister of Mrs. Whitsett, who resides in Woodford county, and have received many attentions from relatives and friends in Versailles, Midway, Paris, Lexington and Frankfort. They have had several entertainments given in their honor, and have enjoyed their visit exceedingly. They are expected to return about the middle of the month.

Visitors to Richmond. William F. Weil, of Wheeling, W. Va., and his daughter, Miss Annie Weil, who have been visiting Mr. Weil's cousin, Mr. George Miller, of 115 Albemarle Street, for the past two weeks, have returned home after having spent a very pleasant time here.

This was Mr. Weil's first visit to Richmond since leaving home to go to Wheeling with his family many years ago. He was delighted with his trip East, and expects to visit Richmond again shortly.

Mrs. Todman Arrived. Mrs. Charles Todman, of Australia, formerly Miss Nellie Gray, of Richmond, arrived in the city Thursday evening for her first visit home since her marriage, two years ago. A large party of relatives and friends assembled at the station to welcome Mrs. Todman on her arrival. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Miss Laura Todman, and a number of other relatives.

Country house parties are quite the proper fall during August, and all over the State one finds charming little groups of young people, picked, while hay-rides, picnics and the many informal pleasures of the country fill the long summer days, which slip away all too readily and are gone before one fully realizes that the summer of 1909 is here.

Out at Wilton. The Winston home, near Hanover Courthouse, Misses Kitty and Josephine Winston and their brother, John, have been entertaining

In a charming way a party of friends who are their house guests. They enjoyed a picnic on Wednesday given in the green at historic Hanover Courthouse, and were entertained that evening at a watermelon feast. On Thursday night William Overton Winston was host in a merry hay-ride, and Friday the Misses Winstons' guests spent the day in Richmond. The party included: Misses Blue and Sarah Gardwell, of Ashland, Va.; Miss Janet Donnell, of Norfolk; Miss Katherine Meade, of The Plains, Va.; and Thomas B. Snead and Miss Cleora Segar, of Spotsylvania, who were all guests at a dance last night given by Mrs. Harry B. Smith, at Horn Quarter.

Returned from the West. Miss Bessie L. Arnall has just returned from a most delightful trip to Missouri, Ohio and West Virginia. She was accompanied home from West Virginia by her brother, Louis S. Arnall, who had been visiting in Hinton, W. Va.

Sunday Vespers. Miss Marie Leahy's readings will prove an attractive feature of the afternoon program at the usual Sunday evening meetings held at the Woman's Christian Association Country Club, 513 Fifth Avenue, Chestnut Hill, at 6 o'clock. C. M. Andrews, H. Sadeker, Miss Mary Truman and Miss Elizabeth House compose a quartet, which will render appropriate selections for the service. They will be accompanied by Miss Katherine Truman. Light supper will be served to those going from vespers to any other engagement for the evening.

Enrolment at University of Virginia Summer School Reached 1,144.

MOST SUCCESSFUL SESSION

Many County Teachers and Experienced Students Receive Valuable Training.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., August 7.—The Summer School of the University of Virginia, which has come to a close after a highly successful session, had a total enrolment of 1,144—174 men and 970 women. Of this number there were registered in the School of Methodology, 648; in the university courses, 596. Students holding certificates were: Teaching certificates—collegiate, 34; professional, 58; first grade, 602; high school, 113; normal, 6; special, 37; holding college degrees, 217; high school graduates, 393; applying for professional credit, 294; applying for university credit, 148. Number of students teaching colleges, 21; in high schools, 44; in grammar schools, 457; in primary schools, 237. Number of those who are principals, 210.

In speaking to-day of the work of the past session, an instructor in the school said:

"The Summer School this year attracted, among others, two classes of teachers, particularly those from the remote country districts with no college training; and those fresh from college with little experience in teaching. And these two classes did the work of the school has been of incalculable benefit."

"From one-room country schools, fifteen miles or more away from any railroad, it has drawn teachers who, day in and day out, work faithfully, with no opportunity to learn new methods and with nothing in their environment to stimulate thought or to stir ambition. Into the minds and hearts of such teachers this school has shed new light, planted new seed and breathed new hope. At the end of the course it sends them back home better equipped for their teaching and better qualified to become leaders in their respective communities."

"But valuable as the school has become, both to individual teachers and to the school system of Virginia, it has, I believe, a much wider sphere of usefulness. It gathers representatives from nearly thirty States of the Union—from the North and the South, the East and the West—and it binds them together in a spirit of good fellowship and generous rivalry. Through constant association the teachers of each State are drawn into more intimate relation
